

Call for applications

Joint International Master in Sustainable Development

The Joint International Master's Programme in Sustainable Development offers an international and interdisciplinary approach to the intensively debated topic of sustainable development. The programme combines the strengths and expertise of eight partner universities from eight countries on three continents.

About the Programme

- Four semesters full time (two years or 120 ECTS)
- Interdisciplinary approach with ten selectable specialization tracks from natural and social sciences
- Degree awarding universities are University of Graz (Austria), Leipzig University (Germany), Utrecht University (Netherlands) and Ca' Foscari University Venice (Italy)
- Specialization tracks are offered by the degree awarding universities and by the partner universities in Basel (Switzerland) and Hiroshima (Japan).
- Supplementary modules may be chosen in the course of an optional mobility semester at TERI University (India) or Stellenbosch University (South Africa)

Details and information on how to apply can be found at www.jointdegree.eu/sd/

Application deadline: March 11, 2019

Notification of acceptance: Last week of April.

The study year starts in October 2019.